Meet the 'Creating Futures' team

Creating Enterprise's 'Creating Futures' team is here to help you up-skill, volunteer, find paid employment and get involved in your community. We are all working from home at the moment, but we're still available at the end of the phone or an email. So if we can support you to create a CV that stands out, give you a hand with that tricky application form, or help you brush up on your interview technique, get in touch today!

top tip:

Rich says:

"Spending more time at home could be a good opportunity to update your CV. Check your contact details - are they correct? Does your email address make the right first impression?"

Passport to Construction

Decklyn recently completed our Passport to Construction course in Denbighshire. Living in Mochdre, he travelled twice a week to Rhyl on public transport to attend the training, showing remarkable commitment and dedication. As part of the course, he was offered the opportunity to spend five days on a work experience placement with Brian Davies Ltd, a local groundworks and landscaping company who were subcontracted to Wynne Construction on their site at the Welsh Mountain Zoo.

Decklyn received excellent feedback from Brian Davies Ltd about his attendance, punctuality and work ethic, and has subsequently been offered employment with the company. He says: "The Passport to Construction course helped a lot. I didn't have the means to get a CSCS card or the Site Safety Plus qualification, and now I've got both. Because I already had some experience in construction the course was a good refresher for me, but it's also the perfect first step for someone who wants to work in the industry but has never been on site."

If you would like to know more about the Passport to Construction course, get in touch today.
